HOLIDAYTIME!
No holiday spot is that remote that you cannot find a Catholic Church to attend Mass on Sundays. There is no reason to neglect God or your spiritual life during your holiday. Perhaps it might be the best time in the world to take stock of your religious development and how you stand with Almighty God.
For a list of all mass times in Ireland you can check out www.catholicireland.com.
We wish all our parishioners a holy, happy and safe Summer.
We extend a warm Tullyfish welcome to all visitors

The T.L.C. will take a break for the month of July. See you again on Tuesday 3rd August!

www.tullyfish.com

Due to the popularity of our website, we have been approached by a few people who would like to advertise their particular business on it. While the website is administered on a totally voluntary basis, there is an annual fee payable to catholicireland.net who keep the site 'live'. So, obviously any 'business' that would help cover this fee would be most welcome. For any businesses who may wish to use this service on tullyfish.com, it must be understood that the Parish of Tullyfish is not in any way promoting or responsible for that particular business - it is merely providing a 'space' and a 'service'. If you want to discuss advertising, then contact catherine@tullyfish.com.

Catholicireland.net is owned by Church Support Ltd, a registered charity in Ireland set up to promote and support the work of the Catholic Church in Ireland and abroad on the World Wide Web. The Catholicireland.net team will generate resources to support people at each milestone of their Catholic life. As well as giving information on the Church in Ireland. Sections include Spirituality & Prayer, Church & Bible, Liturgy & Sacraments, Evangelisation and Moral Life. A particularly interesting section called the Milestones of Life has articles on the significant phases of life - childhood, young people, life choices, parenthood, family, illness, grieving, retirement, old age and so on. A final section called Books & Media gives the first chapters of many significant books of Catholic interest published recently. It also has a section called 'Staff Room' which advertises teaching jobs available in Catholic Schools. A link to catholicireland.net is on the left side of our own website and is well worth a visit.
